ion transaction took another dollar off Saturday's closing quotations and sold freely at 28. An eighth less is bid. Hawaiian Commercial remained deady, large blocks changing hands at 24,75 which figure was set on Satur-Holders are asking the same and a parter less is being hid.

Marual Telephone appeared at 34, having knocked off a dollar from its former figure during its long vacation from trading. A block of thirty shares of Paia sold at 150, at the same steady orice which has been quoted on this stock for some time.

A twenty-five cents increase in quotations on Hilo Ex. 6s to the par value of $7000 which changed hands off board indicated the bond market as still healthy.

Chalmers "Forty"-Touring Model. Licensed under the Selden Patent.

Here's Some Good Sense on the Automobile Question

Fresno, Cal., August 29, 1910.

Pioneer Automobile Company, 721 Golden Gate Avenue,

San Francisco, Cal.

It would do you good to see the way the 1911 Chalmers "30" is taking with the people of this valley. You know there are no more critical men in the country than those who buy automobiles in this region.

They have paid dearly for their experience. Cars have been dumped in here that could find no sale elsewhere and when you stop in a town you are immediately surrounded by a crowd of men that are NOT Missourians,

They don't want to be "shown," They have had cars come along in years past with anxious and clever demonstrators that could "show" most any-

Cars with big engines that could make most any old kind of a demonstration, but which, when the main test of daily work was put on them, could not

The people here have learned the sad lesson that the cheapest thing to put in a car was horse power. "Why," said an oldtimer in Merced when he was told the bore and stroke of the new Chalmers, "there is common sense. They could make that engine ten-horse power larger and it wouldn't cost them over a dollar. A four and a half inch hole in east iron is an easy proposition, but a transmission, frame and axle that will stand the big engine is another matter. You have the real goods in that rear construction. It will stand all your engine will give it and as a car I would prefer it to anything I have seen regardless of price."

The new car takes the roads ever so much better than anything that has been seen here of the same weight and it is practically dust-proof.

The roads throughout the valley are the worst in years and a demonstration means going up against blind chuck holes in which a horse could hide. In this kind of work the little car has no peer.

It will take the worst roads we have at thirty mile an hour and with comfort. Mr. Wooden of this city, who is one of the largest importers of leather goods in the state, on er-amining the upholstery, said that the workmanship and material are on a par with the highest priced car, To use his own language, "It's a custom made job," The car practically has no competition and there is not a man here who is buying a car but figures that his choice lies between a Chalmers and some higher priced article. In every case the Chalmers is
